Framework for Prevention

This framework for prevention depicts The Cypress Initiative's view on cultivating human and creative potential within all lives through understanding of the mind and the human experience. Much research has been conducted around the implications of understanding how the mind works to create the human experience through recognition of the 3 fundamental human principles: Mind (SPARK), Thought and Consciousness. This understanding has been proven to naturally reduce risk around high-school dropout, teen delinquency, bullying, teen violence, suicide, depression, and anxiety, while building resiliency around academic success, emotional well-being, and social-emotional skills. (Kelley, T. M., Lambert, E., & Pransky, J.).

According to the Theory of Planned Behavior (TPB), by Icek Ajzen, predictors of dropout, delinquency, academic failure, depression, and teen violence are attitudes, subjective norms and perceived control, meaning a person's perception of his or her own capability to perform specific behaviors and/or meet specific results. Therefore, unlike many popular prevention models, this framework is individual-based, because resiliency and success in these areas is created from the inside-out. Consequently, if the participant understands the mind and the human experience, success will not require the participation of environmental factors. Yet, through the powerful research organized and presented in the Social Development Model (SDM), by R.F. Catalano and J. D. Hawkins, we found that active participation and connection to a mentor, school, and community have been proven to contribute to increased positive outcomes of the overall program.

Target Audience: Youth

The S.P.A.R.K. Program increases connectedness, reduces risk factors and builds resiliency to promote emotional well-being and school success in youth.

Though TPB predicts undesired behavior in youth that can be identified and addressed through attitudes, subjective norms and perceived control. The S.P.A.R.K. core curriculum is specifically designed to teach an understanding of the human experience, which subsequently creates desired changes around attitudes, subjective norms and perceived control.

Inputs:

Core Curriculum: The core curriculum consists of 13 lessons that focus on an understanding of the mind and human experience for the purpose of reducing risk, uncovering resiliency and potential, and increasing a feeling of connectedness one's self. The curriculum teaches youth an understanding of the mind and connects knowledge and skills learned to help youth navigate their personal life experiences and circumstances.

Supplemental Modules: Modules are supplemental lessons used after the participants have been taught the foundation through core curriculum. They are optional lessons that are separated into groups (modules) by topic and should be chosen based on the specific needs of the participants. All modules were created to connect the knowledge and skills learned through the core curriculum to the participants personal life experiences and circumstances.

Facilitators/Mentors:

Research states that it takes approximately 6-12 months to see desired outcomes from mentoring. Additionally, mentoring relationships that last one year or longer have shown the biggest improvements in academic, psychosocial, and behavioral outcomes. Finally, research also states that mentor pairs should spend at least 1-2 hours together, per week, for at least one school year. Because of this, adding modules that are relevant to your participants and providing one on one and/or group mentoring in addition to the core curriculum are both encouraged.

One-on-One/Small Group Mentoring: Facilitators/Mentors act as guides to the participants to connect the dots of learning and give an opportunity for the participants to have positive interactions with an adult in their life, week to week. Facilitators/Mentors also provide a healthy space to build a relationship and connectedness that supports youth and the skills learned.

If incorporating one-on-one or small group mentoring, it is suggested that mentoring be facilitated by recruits who have been trained in the curriculum. Also, because of the bond formed through the teaching of the curriculum, it is highly suggested that the mentor be the same person/s facilitating the core curriculum. If the core curriculum is being taught every week, all participants may receive one on one or small group mentoring, on the bi-weeks. If the core curriculum is being taught weekly, the one-on-one mentoring may occur before, after of in between the lessons.

School and/or Organization

School/Organization support for the purpose of disseminating the core curriculum is essential. Research suggests that communication with staff and sufficient availability to resources and safe space are directly connected to quality and longevity of any mentoring program. Mentoring programs require buy-in from the schools/organizations they work with and can help achieve this by involving the school/organization in setting outcomes, a safe and dedicated classroom, and using best practices to set these standards (Burrus, J., Roberts, R.).

S.P.A.R.K. Facilitator Training: Training in an understanding of the mind and human experience is highly suggested for any teachers who will facilitate the program. The Cypress Initiative, Inc. provides access to teacher-training resources, as well as, on-site and virtual training opportunities.

For more information on S.P.A.R.K.-certified facilitator training, please contact us at info@cypressinitiative.org or call 1 (813) 662-6920.

Community

According to research done by the National Assembly on School-Based Health Care and the SDM, a feeling of connectedness within the community was also a protective factor in reducing the risk of anxiety, depression, disruptive behavior, dropout and substance abuse. Therefore, the S.P.A.R.K. Mentoring program also provides a community-involvement component within the Leadership Module of each S.P.A.R.K. curricula level.

Community Involvement: The S.P.A.R.K. program Empowers youth to utilize their leadership and creativity in giving back to their community. Each group of participants being taught the Leadership Module will have the opportunity to choose a community project they would like to complete as a group. The discussion occurs, and the decision is made during the Community Engagement lesson of the Leadership Module. Completing this project and lesson, allows participants the opportunity to bond with their community and empowers them to see that they can be a vital asset to their community.

Logic Model

Target Group	Youth: Ages 6 - 22
Goals	The S.P.A.R.K. Program reduces risk factors and uncovers resiliency to promote emotional well-being and school success in youth.
	The S.P.A.R.K. program addresses the following protective factors.
	Academic Success
	Emotional Competency
	Self-Efficacy Skills
	Communication Skills
	Conflict Resolution Skills
	 Connectedness to Family, School and Community
Objectives	Teach youth an understanding of the mind in order to reduce risky behavior and uncover resiliency (Lessons)
	Connect skills learned to life experiences and circumstances (Generalization)
	Build a relationship and connectedness that supports participants and the skills learned (Mentoring)
	Empower participants to utilize their leadership and creativity in giving back to their community (Community Involvement)
Challenges	Many young people come to school with an array of the following risk factors:
	Aggressive behaviors, Reactive behaviors, Impulsive behavior
	Poor Academic Success
	Lack of School Commitment
	Depression, Anxiety
	Low Confidence/Self-esteem
	Low Social Skills
	Disrespect towards authority
	Many schools do not have the resources to implement social emotional learning programs and curricula in social and communication skills and emotional competency.
Activities	Curriculum Lessons
(Strategies)	Core Curriculum: The S.P.A.R.K. core curriculum is designed to be taught during or after school, throughout the school year, by classroom teachers, or certified S.P.A.R.K. facilitators. It can be taught once a week throughout the school year, or once every other week when implementing the one-on-one mentoring component in between lessons. The core curriculum consists of 13 lessons that focus on an understanding of the human experience for the purpose of teaching participants personal and interpersonal skills needed to navigate life
A 04::4:	successfully.
Activities

(Strategies)

Topic-Specific Modules: Additional Lessons, also taught in a classroom setting. Based on the needs of the audience, topic-specific modules can be included into the program. Examples Modules: Relationships, Leadership, Life Skills, Sex Education and Teen Pregnancy Prevention, and Teen Parenting.

Curriculum Techniques:

- Group discussions
- Role plays
- Student workbook
- Thought chain / decision making
- Creativity challenges
- Videos
- Trivia
- Teachable moments / stories
- Relatable story sharing
- Real life examples
- Demonstrations

One-on-One Mentoring: If the core curriculum is being taught every other week, participants receive mentoring, on the bi-weeks, in any life area (goal setting, rapport building, social and emotional skills).

Community Involvement: The S.P.A.R.K. Mentoring program also provides a community-involvement with the Leadership module. Participants complete various volunteer projects to help support local nonprofits. Each group of participants being taught the core curriculum will have the opportunity to choose a community project they would like to complete as a group. The discussion occurs, and the decision is made during the Community Engagement lesson of the Leadership Module. Completing this lesson and the project, allows participants the opportunity to bond with their community and empowers them to see that they can be a vital asset to their community.

S.P.A.R.K. Facilitator Training: Training in the Inside-Out understanding is highly suggested for of any teachers who will facilitate the program. The Cypress Initiative, Inc. provides access to teachers-training resources, as well as on-site and virtual training opportunities.
